NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The news that we published in our issue of Friday last from our Shanghai correspondent was, we understand, received by a certain section of the public with grave doubts as to its authenticity, but in this case, as when we gave the first news of Wei-hal-wei having been taken over, we have been proved to be right, and the Reuter's telegram which we publish today amply confirms our special telegram of Friday last,. Since the arrival of Reuter's message we have been patted on The Japanese cruiser Matsushima, left Makung the back by many of the scoffers at our own I for Manila on 4th inst. telegram, and complimented on the

It is good to know that the concession of territory granted to us comprises all be prevalent that 'we have gained much | ment, more than we really have, or than we demanded. Several people that we have For depositing rubbish in the harbour, a boat the new strip of Greater Britain, and how I days. It will take in Canton and spread goodness knows how far north and east and west of For stealing $14 worth of furniture a Chinaman us. The fact of the matter is that Reuter has been misinterpreted by some. Reuter I labour. puts the extent of the concession at two hundred square miles, and this has been confounded with two hundred miles square, territory two hundred miles square would 1,408, contain no less than forty thousand square miles and be greater in extent than either Scotland or Ireland. Besides, it is not Leibbidge with the theft of a watch and chain. likely that we should ask for Canton to be After hearing a good deal of evidence the included in the concession, nor is it likely I accused were discharged. that the Powers would quietly allow us to la take it even if China were agreeable. We By noon to-day no less than seventeen ships have obtained the hills at the back of the present Kowloon boundary, we have obtained Mirs Bay and Deep Bay and this is all that we require to make the position of Hongkong secure.

fixed for the handing over by China of to-night, in which case our readers may expect our new acquisition, and we are inclined to believe that the ceremony will not take place for at least several weeks, if not months. All the stations of the Imperial Maritime Customs situated within our new boundary will have to be abandoned, and arrangements will have to be made for establishing them at suitable points along the frontier. The question of the policing of the new strip will have to be considered and steps taken for establishing police stations here and there, and men will have to be found to occuppy them, while plenty of minor details, far too numerous to be mentioned here, will have to be attended (1) to before we can be ready to take over sible innevation.

There is another question that appears to have been lost sight of by the authorities waterways of China to British trade. of China were to be thrown open to British above date. trade on the 1st June, and the news was received at home by the public as another A PROMINENT German naval officer gave bi proof of the successful issue of British opinion that if fifty German artillerymen wit June, yet we, who are on the spot, have have entered the bay of Manila. heard no word of the opening of the waterways to trade, no official notification that we have seen the statements in the Gazette; which also contains the translation of should have had no idea that such a concession had been either asked or granted.

It is very probable that the rules and regulations for the navigation of the waterways have not been framed as yet, and that this is the cause of the delay in their being thrown open, but, if this is the case, we contend that some notification should have been given to this effect and a definite time fixed upon for the opening. matters now stand our merchants have been informed by their own statesmen that the waterways were to be opened on June 1st, and therefore there would be every excuse for their taking advantge of this information and making, use of them, but they know well that were to do so the Chinese authorities would raise all sorts of objections, and vexatious delays would occur that would render the enterprise not worth the trouble involved. The questions that we wish to put to the authorities are: -- Have the waterways been opened, or has any specific promise been given by China that they shall be? If China has made such a promise why has a delay of thirteen days been allowed to occur in its fulfilment?

MARINE EXCURSION.

The second of the series of marine excursions

organised by Messers. W. Farmer & A. Hurpes

took place yesterday, the fine steamer Talon being ergaged for the occasion. The attendance was hardly as large as might have been expected but those who made the trip had a most enjoyable time. A fine bress blew for the greater part of the day and it was delightful after the heat, glare and dust of the city. The Tai-on left Market Wharf a little after to a.m. and proceeded through Car-sul-meon Pais. thence to Lan Kli, half way to Canton, then turning rourd and stopping in Castle Peak Bay. Here a boat was got out and the steps lowered and a number of swimmers were soon disporting themselves in the tempting water. The arrangements on board the ship were admirable the tables in either saloon being set with a capital tiffic to which all hands come with appetites freshened by the sea air. Whatever Host Farmer undertakes is always well carried out and yesterday ble patrons spoke in war in terms of the pleasant time they had had, An old Scottish piper made things hum'in the after saloon there being an ever-constant deny and for the Dargal air " Cock of the North " There were plenty of Scots aboard and sta the old fellow pumped out reals, sirathepryy &c. some of them so far forgot old time Scott ish, stiffness as to shake a light foot and a limber leg he immediately boarded. The chip's library is described on said bill as consisting of a battered copy of the "Newgate Calendar" but this is a base date simuation as a lot of yery up-to-date literature was to be seen all over the ship. The enterprising promoters of these trips certainly deserve all encouragement, as they provide an excellent outing at a moderate charge and in a place like Hongkong where there is little but heat and discomfort eshore in the summer, a

.THE HERO CF MANILA. Commodore Dewey is commanding the Asiatic station of the United States Navy, with the centier Glympia an hie flegebip. He was born in Vermont, New England, sixty-one years sgo, and was graduated at the Naval Academy at Appapolis, Maryland, in 1854. Seven years later, at twenty-lour years of age, be began a fierce and long continu d training in war under Admiral Farragut, the greatest naval here of the Civil War, who was then of the age which .Dewey hat now reached. Under Farragut he took part in the exciting and dangerous work of forcing an entrance to the Mississippi, through a gauntlet of land batteries and river obstrections, and warships. His next great experience was gained in his efforts to run a Confederate blockede higher up the Mississippi river at Port Rulson. In that engagement his ship, a theurand-ton side-paddle frigute, was siddled with shot. It ran aground and lay heeled over, helpless, within the enemy's range, and a rain of shot and shell fell on and through it. The officers and men excaped after seiting fire to their ship Commodore Dewry next joined the North Atlantic squadron, with which he distingulahed himself in two fights. He commanded the Narragansett, at the time. 1870 he was promoted to a captaincy. In 1884 he was made commidere, and in 1896 President of the Board of Inspection and Survey. He went to the Aslatic aquadion in Janua y.

A PROPHETIC UTIERANCE. In the light of present events, it is interesting to recall the last words Alfonso XII. When the King lay andying, he was beard to utter several times, "What a corflict | My God, what a confilet I' These words puzzled those who we eat the Royal bedside. Some thought that they had reference to the last struggle-the corflict between life and death. Others, however, varisfied that the pain His Majesty was suffering was not great, begged of him to expisin himself Alfonso then replied; "I see a conflict in the future," The words were prophetic, and Spain remembers them to-day.

MACAO NOTES.

(From an Occasional Correspondent) MACAO, June 13th.

I am glad to be in a position to authentically state that there has been a marked diminution of sporadic cases of bubonic plague. Some of the Chinese patients at the Lappa plague hospltal were inoculated with the Yersin serum with the best of results; still, it is not yet quite safe to state that it is a positive semedy for the cure of this terribly fatal disease. Further experiments are needed to prove its thorough efficacy. The prohibition of the exportation of rice is still in force, and it has tended to reduce the arbitrary prices saked by the rice merchants to the great detriment of the poorer classes. This prohibition should be in vogue as long as the prohibition of the exportation of rice is in force throughout the Two Kwangs,

SUPREME COURT.

IN ADMIRALTY JURISDICTION.

June 19th.

Before their Lordships the Chief Justice, Sir. W. Carrington, Kt., C.M.G., and the Pulsas Judge, Mr. A. G. Whe. Lieut, Stirling (H.M.S. Bonquenture) and Capt. Finch (Gaelle) were appointed nuntical assessors, Mr. Francis took exception to the appoint-

BRITISH TRADE IN CHINA.

An interview with Mr. J. Grant Birch is published in Trade and Industry. Mr. Birch is reported to have said :-

As to the means which should be adopted to make our rights' effective, there are no others than those of stern persistent Government pressure to secure the carrying out of all treaty rights about the 17th inst. and pivileger. Unless stern and persistent Governmental pressure is put on the Chinese Government, our Yangtrat concessions will be practically valueless. You have no idea of the | Maritimes Co. that the steamer Oceanies, with intense faciling of disatisfection which exists in | the next French mail, left Singspore for this the minds of these concerned with Chinese trade | port at 3 a.m. yesterday, the 12th inst, via Saigon. at the deplorable way in which our Interests in China have been neglected. The memorial THE China Mutual Steam Navigation Co.'s to Lord Selisbury of the China Association recently rublished accurately represents cus rent sentiment in this direction, though the language used is extremely moderate. I the British Government were to sdopt such an attitude with the navigation of the Yangiaze, the result in the expansion of B itiah trade would be enormous, almost incalculable. We have only lust touched the fringe of Chinese trade. Bear this in mind :- The Chinese, as a people, are anxious for the installation of rall says and other means of internal inter-communication. What they resent, or rather what their officials, object to, is their management by foreigners. Chins. however, is a mass of contradictions. The trend of opinion and their habits or thoughts are incorcelvable to anyone who has not resided long among them. I have made three separate visits to China, one of them lasting two years, and have become so impressed with the colosial possibilities of the country that it is a matter of the keenest and most painful reflection to me that through the action of our Government we stand a serious risk of losing this magnificent field for our manufectured exports. The field is immense, but English influence must be predominant to secure it. We should take China practically under our protection at once by giving formal notice of what we consider our opheres of influence, and give her assistance in the way of organising, dis isplining, and leading her military forces, and by exercising persistent pressure to cause her to carry out to the fullest degree her treaty obligations with us. In order to effect this the Foreign Office must reform some of its methods. It is well-known that a comparatively small sisff at the Foreign Office has charge of Chins, Siam, and Japanese affairs. However able and welltelermed this staff may be, it is not strong June o Rwongsang ... Hongay ... J. M. & Co. enough to keep in touch with such vast interests.

am a Conservative, but, like muny others, a rather discontented one.

The Kobé correspondent of the Standard in a recent lengthy letter on the turmolt in China wilter :-- Some of the papers are anticipating that the opening of Ta-lien-wan to the commerce of the world will confer great advantages upon Tapan, who already dies a fairly large trade with Lisetung, but the cargo now has to go of their to Shanghai or Newchwarg first and by transshipped in junks. Occasionally, sires the war, the opinion has been expressed that the Japanes Covernment ought to have institted on the openleg of Ta-lien-wan as a Treaty port when she gave up Lizotung. Evidently, it will be a surprise to a considerable section of the Japanese public if Russia fulfils ber pledge to open Ta-ilen-wan to the trade of the world, it being argued that there was no need of a lease if that was Russia's intention, for Ta-lien wan might have been opened in the same way as the other Treaty ports of the Emplee.
